Recall of Justices Demanded by Bob's Supporters in Los Angeles.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)

San Francisco — Thirteen presidential electors, named by petition of California voters, and committed to support the candidacy of Robert La Follette, stood before the state supreme court yesterday.

The decision of the supreme court was based upon the finding that a presidential elector is merely the agent of a political party, operating solely through a political convention and therefore cannot be placed upon the ballot by initiative petition but only through the agency of a party convention.

Aroused by the decision, La Follette supporters in San Francisco today were discussing measures which might overcome the legal handicap placed upon their candidate by the court. In Los Angeles the La Follette organization resolved to start a movement to recall the justices who wrote the majority opinion.

FREAK ACCIDENT KILLS KARL KELLEY

Beloit Man Dies When Crane Carries High Current to Truck.

A strangely freakish accident at Crystal Lake, Ill., Wednesday noon, cost the life of Karl S. Kelley, 30, of Beloit, who was electrocuted when 8,800 volts passed through his body, while he was helping erect a truck used in construction work on a job being completed by George Welch, Beloit contractor.

Kelley was standing on a steel jack with which he had raised the rear end of the truck so it could be lifted by a large crane also used in construction work. The crane swung around towards the truck and struck an 8,800 volt wire, breaking it. As the crane came in contact with the truck, the current was carried down the rear of the truck and struck Kelley, with his hand on the lever of the jack, got the full force of the current and was killed instantly.

Kelley was survived by his wife and two little children, Mary Ellen and Hazel Catherine; one brother, Benjamin, Jr., of Vicksburg, Miss.; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Clark, Savannah, Mo.; and another brother, Harry, Austin, Tex.

Funeral services will be held at the home at 3:30 a. m. Saturday, and at St. Francis church, Beloit, at 10 a. m. Saturday. Burial will be in Calvary cemetery, Beloit.

Karl Kelley was born at Savannah, Mo., Feb. 2, 1892, and was married to Mrs. Mary Kelley, nee Clark, in 1919. They have since lived in Beloit. He had been employed for five years by the Pett-Henry Trucking company.

TODAY'S MARKET

GRAIN

Chicago Review.

Chicago—Influenced by an unexpected increase in Liverpool quotations and by a certainty that Russia had prohibited grain exports, the wheat market here today was a work of nerves. A steady decline of continued storm damage in Europe added further to the values, and a heavy fall in the London market, which had indications of liberal new export business. On the other hand, the confidence of the corn market acted as a counterweight to the other influences, which, when taken together, resulted in a decline of about 1/2 cent. Wheat opening prices, which ranged from $2.00 to $2.10, were followed by a material reaction and then by a rally.

Subsequently, the market developed additional strength. It was estimated that the export of wheat amounted to 100,000 bushels. News was reported at Edinburgh, Canada. The close was firm, 1/2 cent higher, but not higher. The market was followed by a material reaction and then by a rally.

Excellent weather conditions led to heavy selling of corn. After opening at 1/2 cent decline to 1/2 cent, the market advanced to 1/2 cent. The close was firm, 1/2 cent higher, but not higher. The market was followed by a material reaction and then by a rally.

Later, the corn market, aided by wheat, rose to about yesterday's high. The close was firm, 1/2 cent higher, but not higher. The market was followed by a material reaction and then by a rally.

Provisions were steady in line with grain. The market was followed by a material reaction and then by a rally.

Coroner Gains
Trace of Conlan
Kin in Chicago

County Coroner Lynn A. Whaley announced Thursday that he has gained trace in Chicago of relatives of the late William Conlan, a laborer who died Sunday as a result of accidental asphyxiation in his room at a local hotel. Mr. Whaley was not able to give the names and addresses of the survivors, but believes he will have them located and notified of the death within the next 24 hours. He intends to make a personal trip to Chicago to continue the search in case he is unable to locate the relatives by telephone and telegraph inquiries. Mr. Whaley said the body would be held here until relatives gave orders for its disposition.

Myrtle Street
Main Completed

H. A. Griffey, water works engineer, and his crew, have completed the laying of 240 feet of 8-inch sanitary sewer main on Myrtle street, from Cherry street north, and are now installing water main stubs across intersection on Cherry street, which is to be paved with concrete. Mr. Griffey said Thursday there are approximately 25 water and sewer lateral jobs remaining to be completed in advance of paving on South Jackson street, East street north, and Logan street. All lateral work on other streets to be paved has been completed, the operations on these three jobs being held up by a delay in installing curb and gutter.

OCTOBER COTTON
CONTRACTS BOOM

New York—Fears that the cotton movement will be seriously delayed as a result of present rains in the south Atlantic states led to a big advance in October contracts today. They sold at $24.50 by mid-day, or a full 5¢ a bale above last night's close, while December was up 75 points to $23.50. Shorts were the principal buyers.

TWO PAY FINES FOR SPEEDING IN CITY

Charged with speeding on North Franklin and South Jackson streets respectively, A. Gunderson and Alfred Hensel pleaded guilty in municipal court Thursday and each was fined $12.00 by Judge H. L. Maxfield. Edmund Moeled paid $3.00 for violation of the arterial highway ordinance. T. J. Tody, truck driver, was sentenced to appear in court Thursday afternoon on an arterial charge.

ONLY CONCERN OF
IS FOR CHILDREN

He mentioned his children and said for their sake he repented more than ever of having committed the crime through which they lost their mother.

Mrs. Sweetin was visited yesterday by Christopher C. Sweetin, her father-in-law, and their conversation was of her children.

FATHER OF MURDERED MAN
FORGIVES DAUGHTER-IN-LAW

Mount Vernon, Ill. "I never want to see that man again, never," C. C. Sweetin declared here today. Mrs. Elsie Sweetin, his daughter-in-law, told him last night in the jail at Salem in referring to the late Lawrence M. Hight at whose suggestion she poisoned her husband.

"He made me do it. He made me do it," she sobbed and then turned again to Mr. Sweetin, the latter said today.

Not one harsh word did he say when he met the woman who confessed she poisoned his son, her husband, Wilford Sweetin. "My son is gone and nothing we can do will bring him back," Mr. Sweetin said, "but there are three little boys to look after. They are fine boys and I want to do right by them. For their sake, I hope Elsie does not hang."

When the aged man confronted Mrs. Sweetin in the jail, he extended his hand without a word. The daughter-in-law took it in both of her hands and bowed her head.

"He made me do it," she began. "I didn't want to."

The mother begged that the children might be allowed to come and visit her in the jail. She insisted that the boys be not separated, and that they be sent to the Masonic orphanage.

When her father-in-law started to leave, Mrs. Sweetin requested him to leave. Mrs. Sweetin requested him to stay longer, declaring she was "afraid and awfully lonesome" in the Salem jail.

ARE FRESH, ADVICE
GIVEN TO DEALERS

With the price of fresh eggs climbing to 40 cents and higher as they become more scarce, Dr. J. J. Woodworth, city sanitary inspector, issued a warning Thursday against dealers attempting to sell held or storage eggs under the label of "fresh." Such cases have been reported in the past, he said, when the price of fresh eggs was high. Dealers may guard against any mistake of this nature by candling their eggs. Dr. Woodworth said he intends to go into the various stores the next few weeks to do some candling himself.

NORMAL STUDENTS

Mr. Garrigus moved to town two weeks ago, for the winter, but nearly all of the furnishings were in the cottage.

Much that is new and of unusual worth has been added to the Farnum line this season.

Of chief interest are the new Living Room Suites, it may be said conservatively that these new patterns are ultra-distinctive, both as to design and choice of coverings.

Scarcely less important, perhaps, is the splendid showing of the furniture accessories that go with the livable room—the davenport tables, end tables, gateleg tables, spinet desks, ferneries, occasional chairs and the like; each an important link in making a room and home.

SHORTHORN BREEDERS TO CONSIDER SENDING HERD TO KANSAS CITY

Members of the Rock county short-horn association will hold a conference in the Gazette office library Friday night for considering plans to send a county show herd to the Kansas City Royal Livestock exposition and the Chicago International.

While the county has been represented for two years straight with a county herd at the International, Rock has never had an exhibit at the Kansas City show of the dual-purpose cattle. J. C. Robinson and Son always exhibit their Herefords at this show.

It is possible to ship to the Missouri city and then direct to the Chicago International, and both are meat shows of prominence.

PLOWING CONTESTS IN TAYLOR COUNTY

Jump River—The annual Taylor county plowing match will be held here tomorrow.

Tractors as well as both riding and walking plows will be used in the competition. A horse pulling contest with at least three horses to be a goal is one of the features of the day's program, according to R. A. Kolb, county agent for Taylor county.

Land clearing with the new saw explosive, pyroxylin, will also be demonstrated at this meet, and the breaking of new land with tractors will be an attractive feature.

PLENTY OF FOOD AT WEHINGER'S FARM

John Wehinger, near Janesville, Holstein breeder of note, has the largest hay stack in Rock county.

It is 120 feet long and contains 60 tons of choice alfalfa and clover hay. They have the barn left loaded with the tons of alfalfa, and this amount of leguminous feed was secured from 20 acres of alfalfa land and 15 acres of clover. A total of 2,500 bushels of oats and barley were threshed on the Wehinger farm this year and it looks as if the top-notch pure bred ones on the farm are going to have a full menu and this winter. Few farmers in Wisconsin receive a bigger milk check, number of cows considered, than do the Wehingers.

C. T. A.'S WILL HAVE STOCK JUDGING TESTS

The five Rock county cow testing associations will be represented at the National Dairy show in Milwaukee, with judging teams.

George Schenck, R. E. Dalls and Arthur Tollefson have been selected from the Footville-Evanville association. Three men from the other associations will also be named this week.

WILL AWARD MEDALS AT INTERNATIONAL

As the result of an appropriation made by Congress last year medals will be awarded to the winners at the 25th International Livestock exposition in Chicago, to be held in December. These Congressional Livestock medals to be given will be sold for grand champion, silver for junior

THREE HOLSTEINS FROM ROCK COUNTY AT THE NATIONAL

Rock county breeders of Holstein-Friesian cattle will be represented at the National Dairy Exposition to be held at Milwaukee, September 27 to October 4, by three head from three different herds. A bull owned jointly by E. P. Cook, J. A. Craig, Dr. G. W. Post and John Jones, and yearling from the herd of the Rock County Farm will go from Janesville and a two-year-old bull owned by Grant Lyle, of Milton Junction, will be shown.

A preliminary report received by the Holstein-Friesian Association of America from W. E. Skinner, a general manager of the National Dairy Exposition, indicates that approximately 350 Holsteins will be shown, one-half of which are entered by Wisconsin breeders. An Ontario, Canada, herd of 15 head is also entered.

URGENT COOPERATION OF HEALTH AGENCIES

Madison—Cooperation between state, county and local health agencies and postgraduate training for health nurses were measures advocated by Miss Cecilia A. Evans, field advisory nurse of the state department, speaking before the hospital conference of Wisconsin health officers here today.

Licensing and closer supervision of child-placing agencies; maternity homes, orphanages and similar agencies were measures urged by Miss Elizabeth Yerxa, state juvenile director.

The conference was opened this morning with a discussion of scarlet fever by Dr. L. M. Field, Deloit, and discussions by Dr. E. B. Welch, Janesville, and Dr. H. A. Ott, Dale.

Political Notes

Charles G. Dwyer swung into Minnesota today for the first of three days' strenuous campaigning.

Eric Orsted, secretary of the Labor-Union League in Wisconsin, was named personal campaign secretary for each of the La Follette electors at a conference in Madison.

John W. Davis is back in his home state following his campaign through the west. He will visit party headquarters in Washington Friday night.

Judge Martin Lusk spoke Thursday at the Popin county fair in Durand, attacking Blaine policies as destroyers of the constitution.

Davis claims great gains in doubtful states, believing the republican machine disrupted by internal dissension. Confirmation of gubernatorial election was pledged by President Coolidge, addressing the retail druggists convention in Washington.

Have you seen this new car?
—It is a closed-open car!

A WEEK ago the new Studebaker Special Six DUPLEX-PHAETON was first announced.

Today, countless thousands of people are talking about this entirely new type of car.

One moment it is a closed car—in five seconds it can be transformed into a delightful, airy, open car. But it is always the closed car in deep soft cushions, beautiful fittings and finish and luxurious riding comforts.

When you see it and ride in it you will know why it has made so profound a sensation—you will realize then that it gives you more than the finest open car can ever give you, plus the comfort and protection of the closed car.

And all at the price of an open car!

And this is the new DUPLEX BODY on the famous Special Six Chassis.

Hundreds of thousands of owners all over this country and abroad have given the Studebaker Special Six a name for value, dependability and performance second to no other automobile.

The new Studebaker Special Six retains all the qualities which make great reputation—to these have been added every real improvement which science and owner-service could suggest.

Even aside from the sensational new DUPLEX BODY—the Studebaker Special Six has no superior in value in any car yet built. It was the conscientious intention of Studebaker in planning and designing the new Special Six to make it just such a leader—to that end every resource of the great Studebaker organization has been concentrated.

Even if we had the space we could not begin to tell you of the very many new and unusual features which indicate its superiority.

Certainly no words could do justice to its distinctive beauty.

In appearance it is unlike any other American car—yet its long, low, broad, sweeping lines are conservative, crisply stylish and in beautifully good taste.

Think of the new Studebaker Special Six Duplex-Phaeton as the ultimate in value and performance in a five-passenger car—think of it as a car matchless in practical convenience and desirability.

But to appreciate the sparkling beauty of its totally new lines you must see it. To know its perfection of operation and performance you must ride in it and drive it.

If you have not seen this NEW type car—come today!

LA FOLLETTE HAS EVEN CHANCE IN WASHINGTON STATE

are being planned from which much is expected. The republican state committee says it is not connected with the undertaking. But it is no exaggeration to say that no political organization of such proportions has ever been developed on the Pacific coast.

Service Men in the Fight

The tactics of the service men are in a sense unique in this. The drive is primarily for President Coolidge, but if any democrats or other ex-service men are encountered who perhaps do not care to vote for Mr. Coolidge because he voted the bonus, they are strongly urged then to vote for John W. Davis. La Follette and Wheeler are the targets of the attack. Copies of some of the literature sent out by Iowa members of the American Legion are being circulated here in large quantities. Senator La Follette is upbraided as pro-German.

Senator Wheeler is condemned because as United States attorney in Montana he refused to prosecute certain members of the I. W. W. who in war times defied the draft law.

Radical growth is large.

There are relatively few Germans in this state, so the republicans need have no fear here as they have in other states that in attacking La Follette they will lose German votes. The fight against La Follette in this section, however, has more in it than the memory of anti-war activity. The growth of radicalism in this region is recognized as something that the conservatives must counteract. The La Follette movement is drawing from both republican and democratic camps, but most from the latter. In order, therefore, to keep down the La Follette vote the conservatives are hoping the democrats can in some way be urged to vote for Davis. A lively vote recovered for Davis is counted as one lost to La Follette. There is a noticeable friendliness to Davis in certain republican newspapers supporting Coolidge.

Democrats for La Follette

If the democratic vote could be held in line for Davis, President Coolidge would easily carry the state. But the democrats are going over in large numbers to La Follette and Wheeler. If the Wisconsin senator swallows the democratic party in this state and gets a fair share of the republican vote, he will win the electoral vote. There are signs that many democrats of the radical fringe and some who are not so radical but care far more about a victory for their state ticket, will trade votes with the La Follette supporters. Thus with the La Follette people not especially concerned about the state ticket their votes might go to the democratic state candidates in return for La Follette support. Details of this carried the state for Roosevelt in 1912. Also two years ago Senator Clarence Dill beat Senator Poinsett by a combination of democratic and radical republican votes.

Three La Follette Tickets

The regular republicans are hopeful of victory, however, through other channels. For one thing they are really planning to get out the conservative republican vote. Then there is the misgiving over La Follette supporters. At present there are three separate sets of La Follette tickets going on the ballot, unless an agreement can be reached or the courts intervene. One set of electors will probably be withdrawn through the influence of Senator La Follette himself, but another set, it is charged, is there through collusion with the regular republicans and will not get off in the hope of confusing the electors. The republicans are not in any hurry about unscrambling the situation. There are some signs, of course, that the state is not as radically inclined as it was two years ago. A recent election for supreme court judges resulted in a defeat for the radicals. Improvement in agricultural conditions has swept aside some of the protest vote which might have gone to La Follette.

Functional Differences

Effective organization work is being done in Spokane. The factional troubles inside the republican party in the western end of the state have not been removed and the campaign has not really been begun. There is talk that the local leaders want financial aid from national headquarters and that some of them are anxious to build an organization that will recover lost ground in state affairs.

On the face of it La Follette has an even chance of carrying this state today. By election day the work of the ex-service men and the republican organization probably will make it a different story, but it will be close--about 10,000 plurality for President Coolidge is the most that is hoped for.

HUNDREDS of the happy ear owners bought them through the classified section.

it was that Jesus helped his friend

He called his first miracle. It was a

With his chosen companions He went to the Passover at Jerusalem. They must have had a fine trip together, these five friends. We have no record of their talk along the way but I think they walked along the road bordered by the spring water, perhaps along the seashore and the Jesus talked with them about many things, as you and I would talk were we thrown together in a long walk as friends.

These men saw the eyes of the companion flash and his angelic mount as he looked at the decoration of the temple. They saw him board a ship of rushes and then he took him up, ready to fight. He had him, as he drove the money-changers out of the temple. He talked to the High Priests, protested at losing their rental for the cattle stalls and the money tables.

The fame of this man and of his friends spread from coast to mountain. Nicodemus, a ruler among the Jews, sought to confound him and asked him hard questions. He was himself confounded and never again after that interview did he recover his ego-satisfied mind. This interview with him on the home to which I was taking him, caused Nicodemus to leave the court at his prosecution without hearing and to join Joseph of Arimathea at the cross, he himself bringing a hundred pounds of spices for the body. I like to think that Nicodemus, the Jew with a three-name, who is mentioned but three times in John's gospel, became a Christian and a friend of Jesus.

He began to make friends everywhere. The Centurion in command at Capernaum, the whose son was healed, became his first friend and supporter.

At his own home town those who should have been his friends, failed him and drove him away. When he returned, he found that they had

If all that we could do would be to wish that we could have seen Jesus, could have known him and been his friend the study of these twelve lessons would have been futile. It would be raking over the dead ashes of friendships of twenty centuries ago. The glory of it all is that we today have Jesus with us and that we may walk with him and talk with him, and lay our burfriends upon His sympathetic knowledge now and know that He is our friend. That is the wonder of the Gospel message, the wonder that John and Peter and Nathaniel did not know until after the cross. It comes to us in His gracious promises and in His touch upon our hearts.

Have you ever walked with Jesus and talked with Him as a friend?
